USCG did federalize it today. Here is a brief paper from their SSC (Frank Csulak) in case you didn't see it.

The water authorities/intakes have a higher level of concern due to their potential inability to analyze at certain detection levels (low).

Anyway. It's USCG AOR so unless they request our further assistance, EPA is standing down. They've got resources on the site now (since early this am)

Thanks!

Myles
